UNFORGETTABLE FRIENDS

Hodgdon wasn't the most social of dorms. It didn't have the best set up for meeting people and hanging out. Single sex floors without lounges--not the ideal dorm for a freshman. But you know what? It was okay--we had a bathroom! Though my hallmates and I would only say "Hi" to each other in the hallway or around campus, we'd get into deep conversations in the bathroom. In between toothpaste spitting, through stalls, over toilet flushing, and making eye contact only through the mirrors, we'd chat for hours. We bonded over classes and professors and boys and brand of dental floss--no subject was taboo in the bathroom. I've gone through four years at Tufts with the friends I made in that--(FLUSH!)--bathroom.

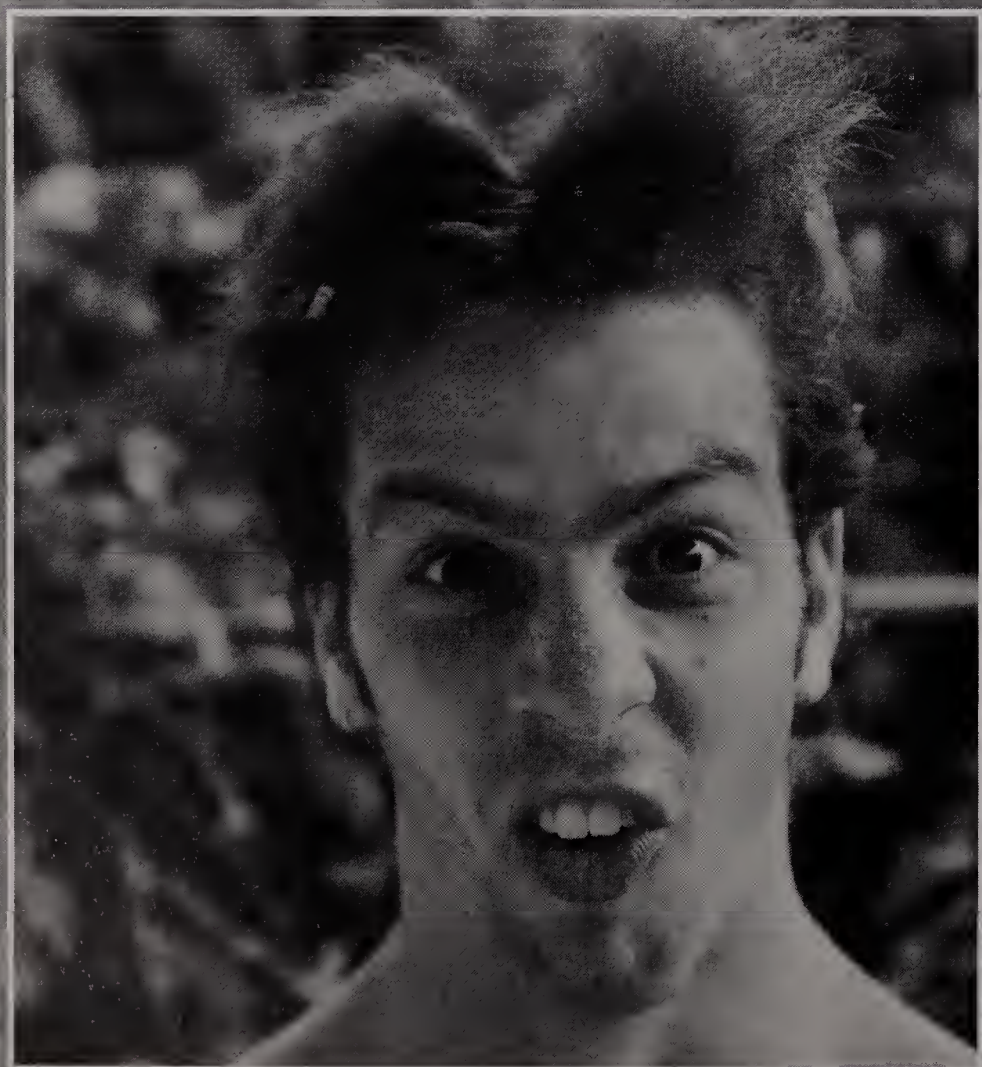

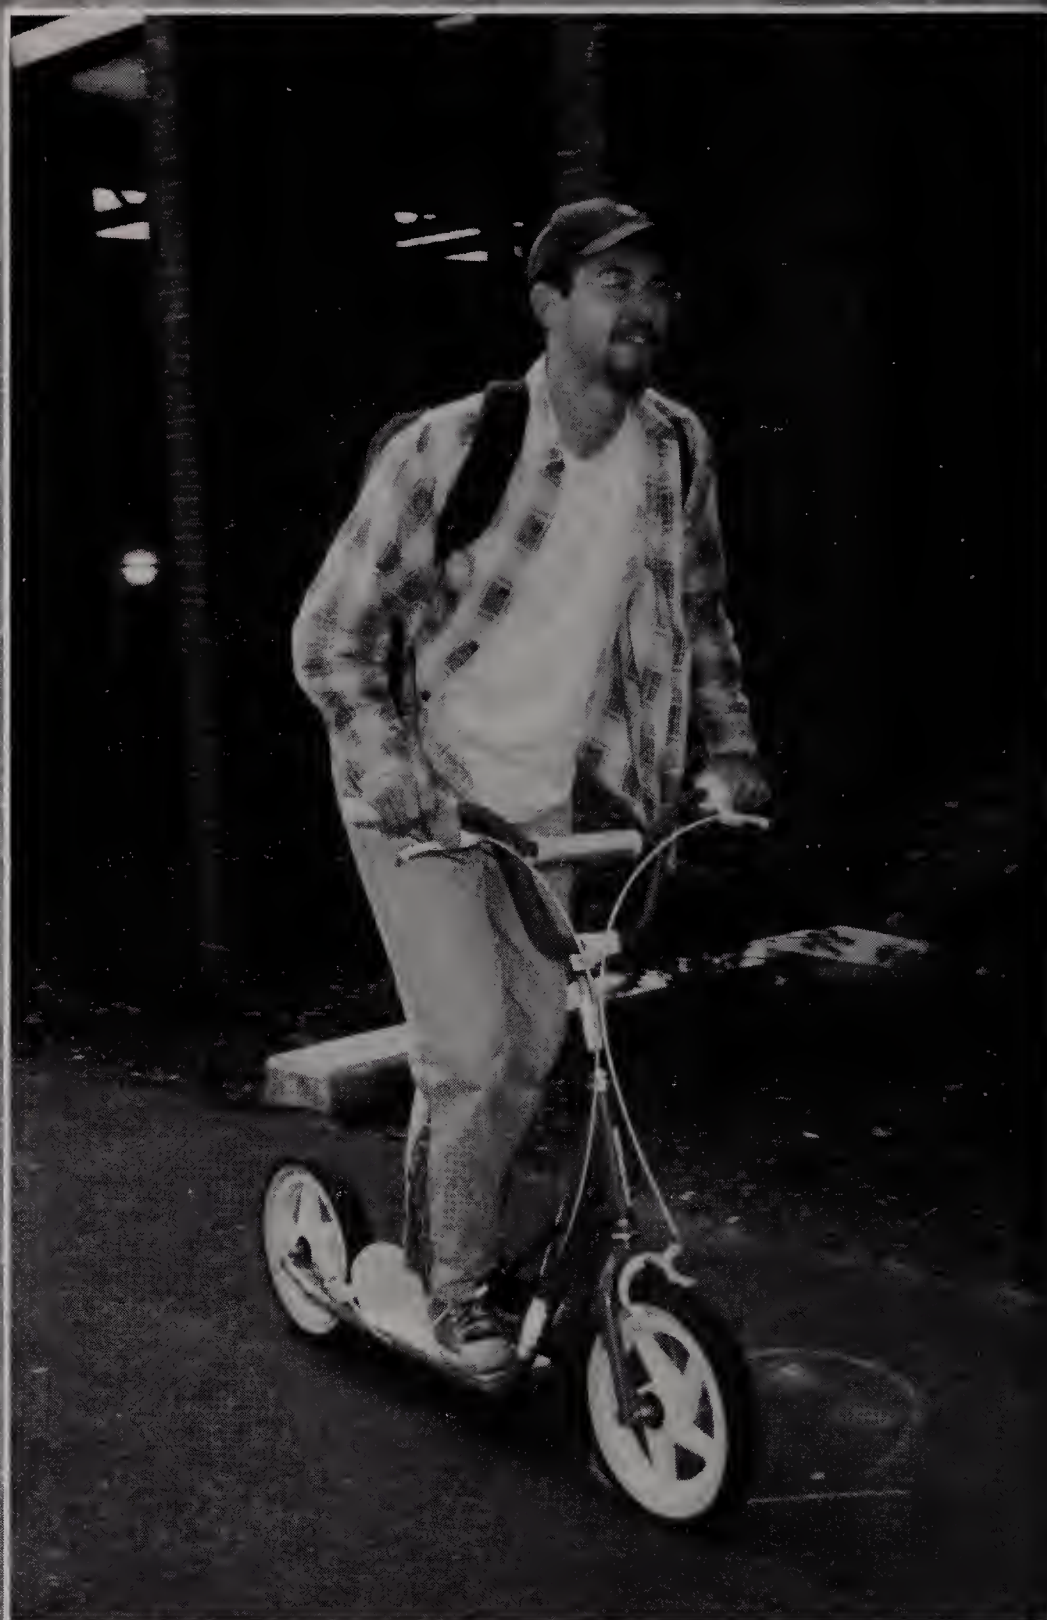

We stepped out of the Park Street T station very excited as we embarked on our first adventure as Tufts freshmen. with no tour book or Pachyderm to guide us, we set out to find the secrets of this city which would become our stomping grounds for the next four years. The plan: get off the T at a major stop and walk. we figured that was the best way to discover some unknown site and to really learn Boston's layout.

So there we were, Teresa, Steve, Eric and me, four Tufts newcomers and one from BU, walking down the street, with no distinct destination on that beautiful October afternoon. First stop, Downtown Crossing, followed by Faneuil Hall; nothing out of the ordinary. We were surprised at how close and connected all these tourist sites were. We stumbled upon them accidentally.

Before we knew it, the adventure picked up. While we walked by the Boston Garden, an older couple avoided us—I guess we looked threatening. We risked our lives crossing the traffic exiting the Sumner Tunnel to get to the North End. We found a great park overlooking the Harbor, and played on a cool playground in the shape of a boat. We followed "twig man" who we saw suspiciously breaking branches off of trees. He used them as table settings in his wine library (we discovered this while slyly peering through windows). A shady man offered to sell me gold jewelry from inside his briefcase in Haymarket. And by the time we were through with our tour, we were at South Station. Boston seemed like an exciting place to me.

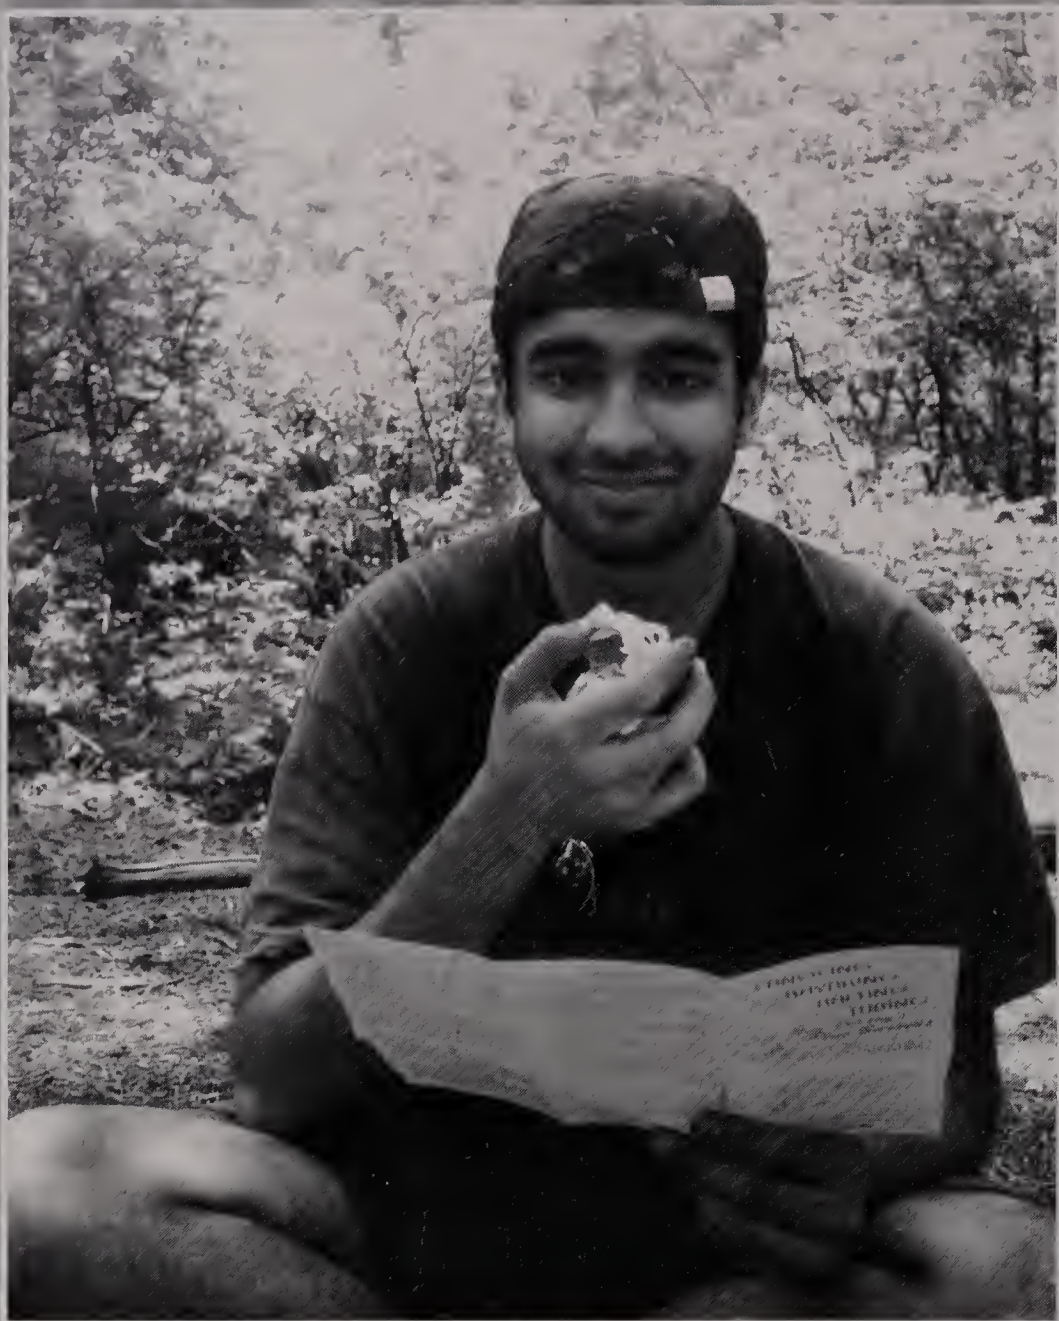

At 11:20 that Tuesday morning, I stood over my printer in disbelief. I was wearing my flannel "thinking pants", a white T-shirt and a Tufts hat. My eyes were bloodshot, my face pale. I had just pulled an all nighter to write a paper. At 10:00 the night before, I had deleted my entire paper; I didn't like where it was going. My roommate became stressed and had to leave. "It's okay-I have time," I reassured her. But the ideas didn't flow. Finally, at 5:22 a.m. after writing poetry to honor my friends and drawing pictures with crayons for my sister, I saw the light. I sat down at my vintage AppleIIc and composed as if divinely inspired. The masterpiece was complete by 10:45, with just the bibliography and the cover page left. At 11:15 I set up my Imagewriter printer and commanded my computer to print. It refused. Screaming and crying as my friends snapped photos of me, I begged the printer to work. I certainly couldn't borrow anyone else's -- nobody else still used the Apple IIc. By some miracle, my Imagewriter gave in and my paper came spurting out. I wept with joy as I stapled the paper at 11:29, and sprinted uphill to Eaton with one minute to spare.

Sophomore year, living in South on the first floor facing Powderhouse Blvd. left me with several memories. Right outside my window as the Tufts Tot-Lot. This led to many days of watching the cute little kids throwing sand at each other and jumping from the top of the ladder, not having grasped the joys of sliding yet. Unfortunately, little kids have a different time schedule than college students and every Saturday and Sunday morning, without fail, there would be kids playing on the slide and the horse-swings. Well, these horse-swings have a terribly loud squeak every time they go back and forth. At 7:00 am, this sounds like the end of the world coming. Sometimes we'd announce from a microphone plugged into a guitar amp leaned up against the window that he/she was causing a very annoying repetitive squeal and that the non-horse swings were much more fun. It usually worked, but it didn't stop everyone. So one day, my roommate, the guys next door, and I gathered to set forth on our mission to stop the squeaking. We kicked a kid off the horse-swing and spayed WD-40 all over the chain and hinges. Although the squeak persisted, it was minimized. We accepted the fact that the swing still made noise since winter was approaching and the shut windows would better keep out the quieted sound. No problems existed during the winter, but when the weather was nice enough to open windows up in the spring, we faced another nuisance: the continuous loop melody of "pop-goes-the-weasel" coming from the parked ice cream truck at the Tot-Lot entrance. The annoyances brought more than headaches, they also brought great inside jokes and many other good memories.

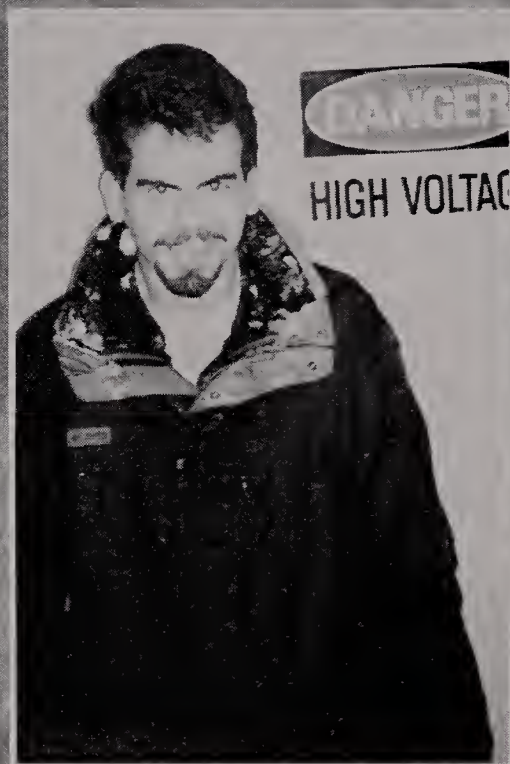

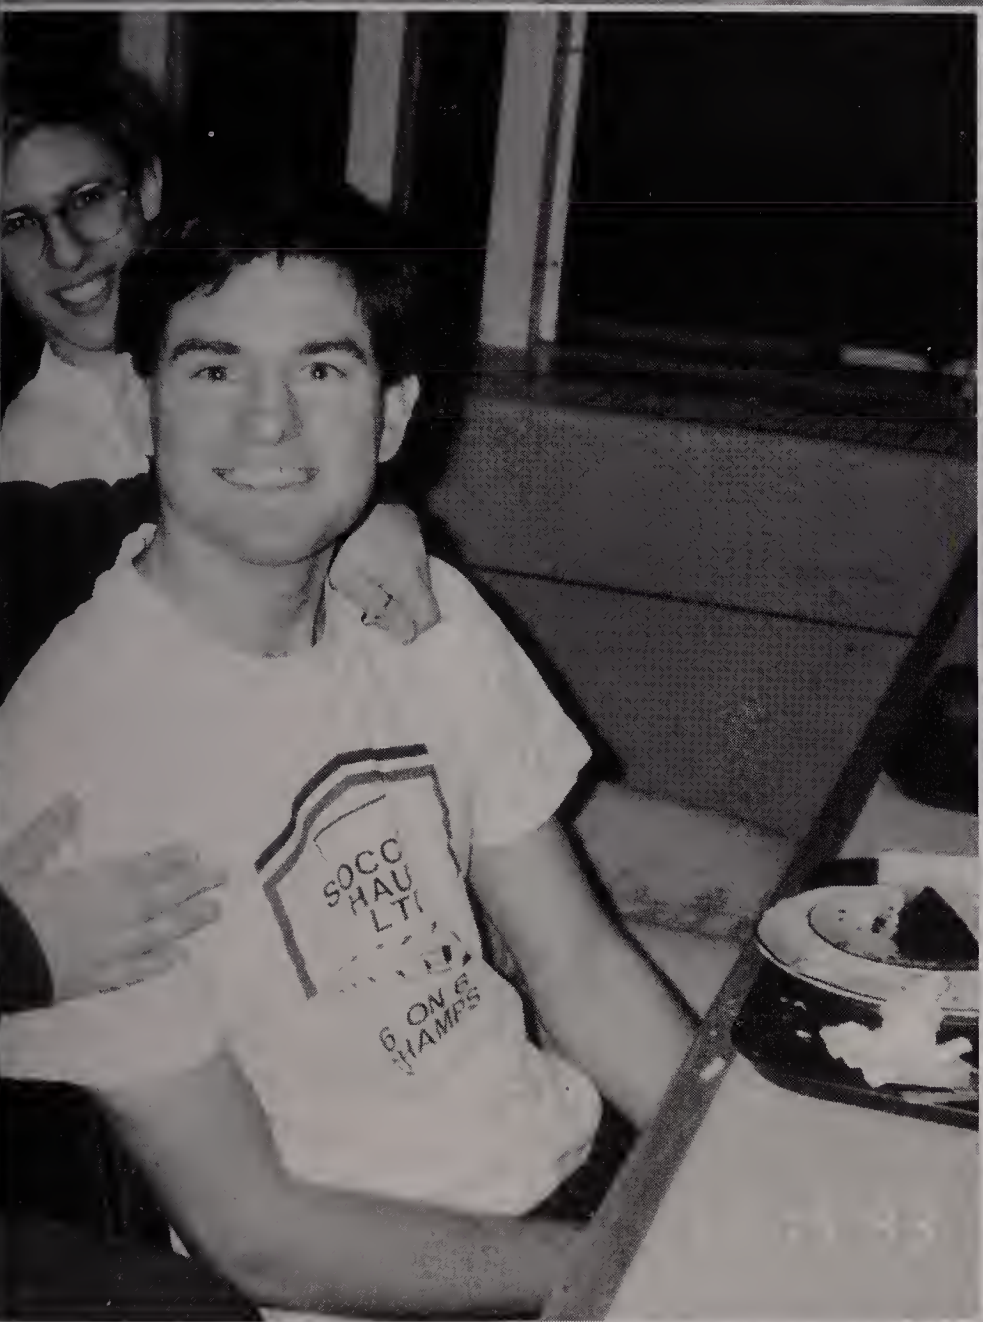

When I was a senior in high school, I went through that period when I was lovingly referred to as a "pre-frosh." I visited several schools, getting a small sampling of classes, dorm life, and of course cafeteria food. Being the picky eater that I am, the cafeteria was one of the biggest factors in my choosing a school. Being young and naive and sick of bringing bag lunches to school every day, I thought that dining halls were the best part of college. That old public high school cafeteria with the sour milk and frozen pizza was nothing compared to these palaces. At the dining halls, you could choose anything from salad to soft-serve ice cream to pasta. You could even drink soda, a definite no-no in my high school cafeteria. Obviously, this was heaven.

And Tufts Dining to me was nothing short of this. The first time that I had stayed overnight at Tufts was in the fall. The most significant part of my visit was not the fraternity party to which my host had taken me, but the cheese eggs in Dewick/Macphie during Sunday brunch. I thought they were great. Granted, after living downhill for my first two years at Tufts, the Sunday cheese eggs became a little tedious but there is no doubt that they will be missed once I graduate.

Well, as I get ready to graduate from Tufts, possibly never to eat the food here again, I can't help but think of all the changes the dining halls have undergone--the most significant being the renovations of Carmichael and Dewick/Macphie. I returned to Carmichael during April Open House. It was very crowded, with a single line to get all of the food, and was much less attractive than I remembered it being in the fall. I also did not appreciate getting yelled at for forgetting to put my silverware down some chute. I had also read in the day's Daily that there had been asbestos found in Carmichael and would be closed until the start of the next school year--the year that we would be freshmen.

We all started freshman year with a new version of Carmichael. Along with the obvious yellow motif, there were several other changes including the myriad of food choices. Of course, there were also the insanely sized crowds and some weird rule about not taking food out of the dining hall. But, there was no fooling around with silverware chutes.

There were rumors freshman year that Dewick was going to be renovated to look something like Carmichael, but I did not believe it. Actually, I did not mind if it was true. I actually liked the old Dewick/Macphie though, especially the old Macphie. It was easy to spot friends and there was something homey about the brick walls. Sure, the dishroom smelled, but hey, it was all part of the charm.

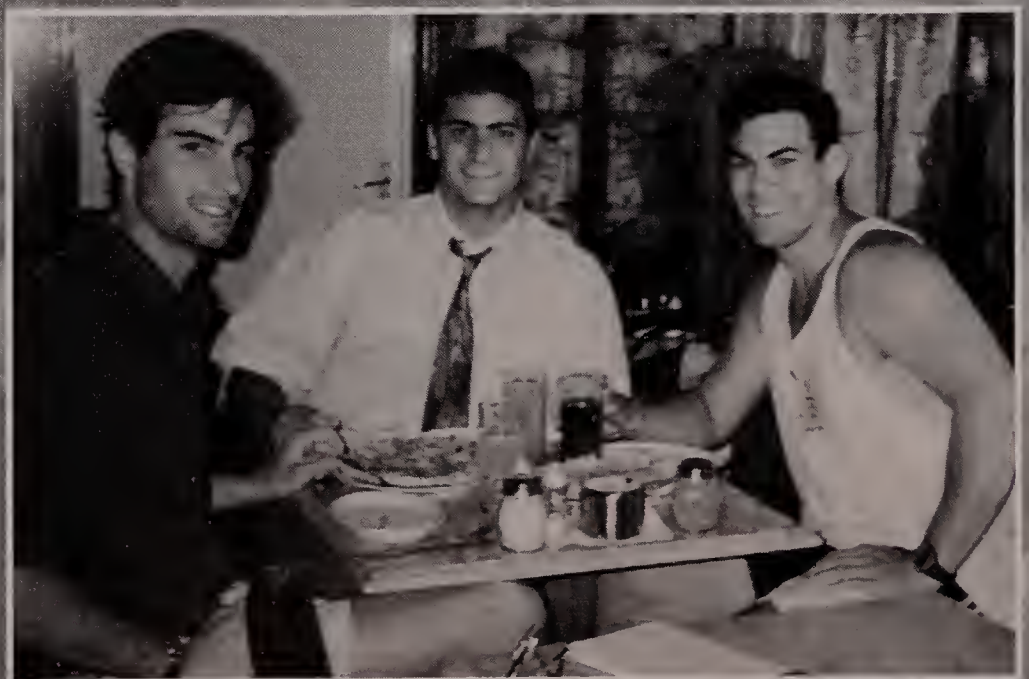

So, I have to admit that the new Dewick/Macphie took some getting used to. I could not get over the fact that it took a Ph.D. to figure out how to get water at first, or that once you got separated from friends you had to give up hope of ever seeing them again. But it grew on me. The eating upstairs part was fun. You could even walk by on Talbot Ave. and stare at all the people eating. And Dewick/Macphie was finally free of silverware chutes. (Although sometimes I miss those...these are the nights that I eat in Hodgdon.)

Of course, there are some problems that I have with the dining halls. The food does get a bit tedious and I don't appreciate the fact that I was yelled at once for trying to take three cookies out of Dewick. But, next year, when I end up eating a frozen dinner because I don't feel like cooking, I'm going to miss the convenience of the dining halls. And no matter how hard I try, my cheese eggs on Sunday mornings just won't live up to the expectations of Dewick/Macphie.

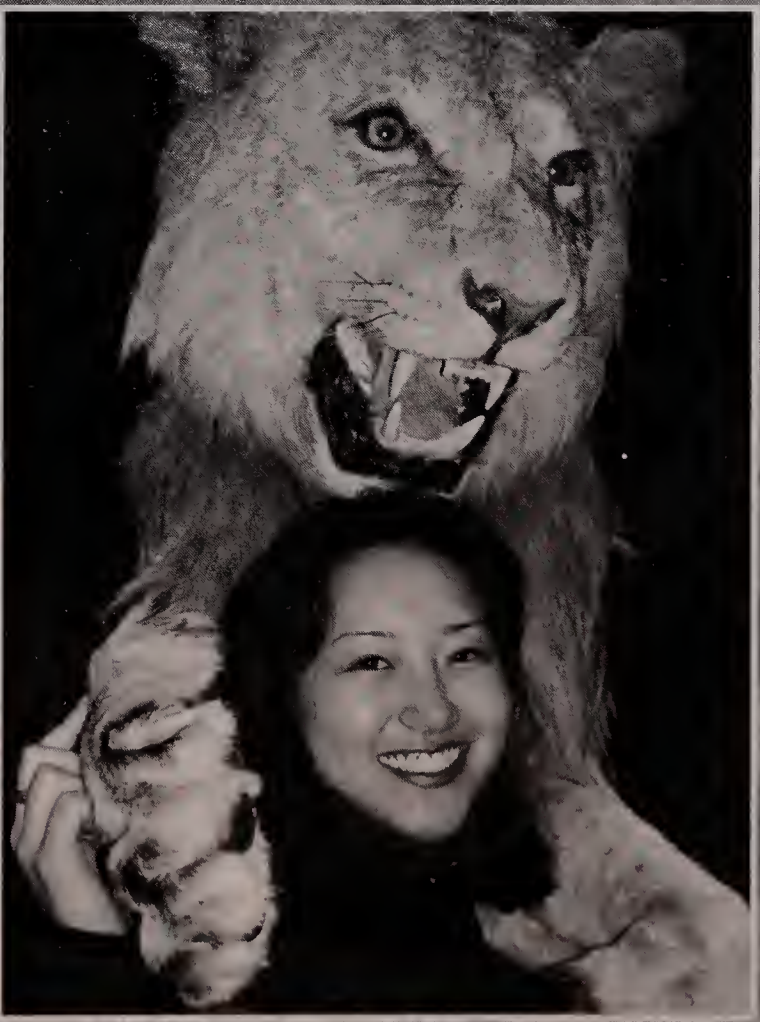

It was about 2 am during finals week when the stress finally hit us. It was about Christmas time and "Silver Bells" was playing on the radio. We sang along except that we decided to make up our own lyrics:

Neverous Breakdowns, Bleeding Ulcers...

After that, anytime work was building up and we were stressed, we would break out in song-creating, adding, and changing lyrics each time.

Now that it is senior year and we're faced with the prospect of earning our own living, we realize that we have much bigger problems than finals. So our song has continued to evolved...

*NERVOUS BREAKDOWNS, BLEEDING ULCERS
FILLED WITH NAUSEA INSIDE.
IT IS FINALS PERIOD AT TUFTS.*

*TWITCHING EYELIDS, POUNDING HEADACHES, STAYING UP EVERY NIGHT.
THERE'S A FEELING OF FINALS.*

*BUTTERFLIES IN MY STOMACH,
WHY DO I FEEL SO STRESSED?
SWEATY PALMS AND COLD SWEATS, SOON IT WILL BE FINALS TIME.*

*CARDBOARD BOXES, MOVING OUT, AND FINDING A JOB.
IN THE AIR THERE IS A FEELING OF TERROR.*

*MINIMUM WAGE, NO HEALTH INSURANCE, WHERE AM I GOING TO LIVE?
SOON IT WILL BE GRADUATION DAY.*

*GRADUATING! OH, MY GOD!
WHAT TO DO WITH MY LIFE NOW?
GO TO GRAD SCHOOL? GET A JOB?
SOON IT WILL BE GRADUATION DAY!!!*

It's 2 am. on a cold April night. The seven of us are bored and tired of playing cards. Pre-frosh scatter the scene. What Tuftonian traditions can we share? Let's paint the cannon!...off to the hardware store...oops! It's closed. "Anybody happen to have a can of paint lying around?" "Yeah...in my back pocket...well, maybe not" Suitable substitute...white-out! They've even got a handy-dandy paint brush in each bottle. What could be better?

So, armed with white-out, we venture into the cold, dark night. We manage to successfully adorn the infamous cannon with white-out pictures, and of course, signatures by all.

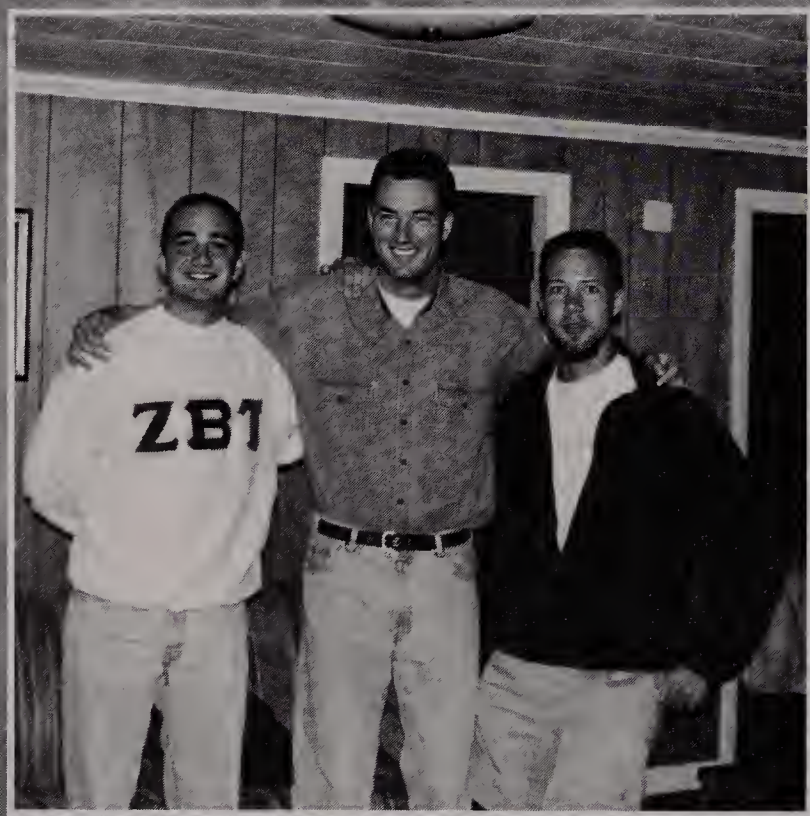

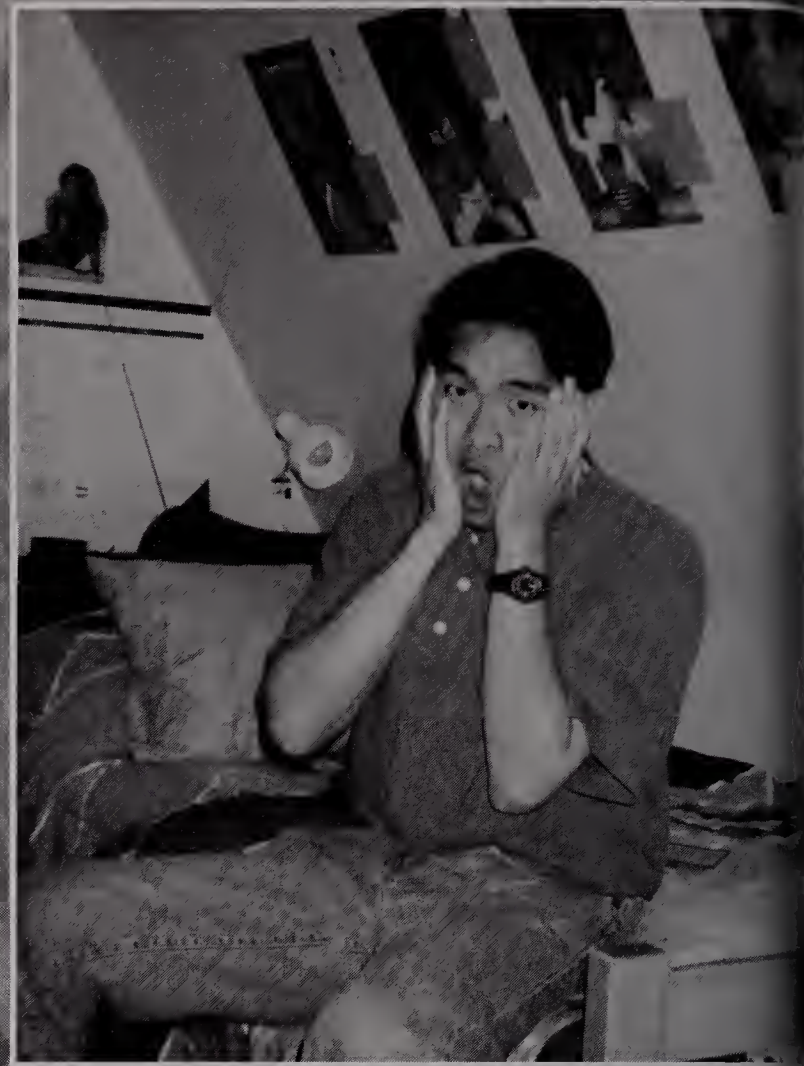

To this day, it remains as the only cannon painting experience in any of our Tufts careers.

To the Class of 1997:

All of you will remember this year as a turning point in your lives -- that moment when childhood was locked safely inside memory's trunk and you embarked on the journey we call adulthood. It is this year that you take on the world, prepared to make it over in your image, to run it according to your rules, and to ensure it will not repeat the mistakes of its past.

You may also remember that this was the year our country inaugurated the last President of this century -- and in the same moment the first one of the next millennium.

The year of commencement, then also marks an era of new beginnings for this country and the world.

We at Tufts knew this day would come, and all of us have done our best to prepare you to assume the tremendous responsibilities the privilege of your education brings. Never forget that your family, your teachers, your friends and countless others whose name you may never know have pinned their hopes on you. They trust that you will live the values you learned here and work tirelessly for a world of peace and prosperity.

And always remember, you remain a part of Tufts international, community -- alumni/ae, students and scholars who are all working on every continent on the globe toward a better world. See them out as friends and colleagues. They are your fellow travelers on life's path and will be there to support you and spur you on to new challenges.

We hope too, that you will return and visit us here on the hill often. Refresh us with your experiences and advise us about our university's future course.

John DiBiaggio

There will be many thoughts racing through my mind as you walk across that stage between Ballou and Bedetson. I will see your faces, many of which I saw sitting in front of me in class. Some of you were there in the dorms when you invited me in for some bull session. You were special from the moment you set foot on this campus. I was struck by the notion that this class, graduating in 1997, might represent as no other before it the next generation of faculty for Tufts and for other great colleges and universities. This class seems to have an extra measure of intellectual curiosity; a wider range of interests, a need to find answers to complex questions. You also appeared to have found out our secret: that the academic life was most satisfying career imaginable. This class fell in love with books as well as the internet. You read as well as you surfed. You drank deeply from the well of knowledge, and you liked the taste. Perhaps it is the basic narcissism which drives faculty, but this class seemed more like us than any in my memory. I have a feeling that many of you will be back. See you soon.

*Sol Gittleman
Senior Vice President
Provost*

TO THE CLASS OF 1997...

The entire Tufts community remains committed to a set of clean goals—to help in your academic, intellectual and social growth to endure your emergencies as creative and independent members of a community and country. We are confident that in the years to come you will hold increasingly responsible leadership roles and will be instrumental in changing your neighborhood, your country, and your destiny. If Tufts has helped to achieve this, then your time has been a special one.

Be assured that even now you leave something special for those still here and those to come. Your interest, passion and struggles for positive change have created a heritage for others similarly motivated to grow, academically, artistically, musically, socially, and spiritually. These are the values of a caring world community that affect us all. Certainly in my years at Tufts the many students I have come to know, make me better appreciate the special traits of citizenship, personal responsibility and striving for quality and fairness in society that so distinguish and honor Tufts' graduates.

As your class of '97 moves around the globe in pursuit of its dreams, remember that Tufts University will never be quite the same after you are gone but it will always be a place to which you are welcome. Best wishes for success in all your endeavors.

Mel Bernstein

Welcome to my world. I am not at all certain that you should accept this invitation wholeheartedly, because my generation and earlier ones have shaped our civilization so that you will face some daunting challenges.

Still, we have done the best we could at Tufts to prepare you for the sudden changes to come, while making certain that you possess the historical background necessary to understand the forces of civilization at work. Step back for a moment and examine what has happened during your years at Tufts. Your yearbook is a chapter of history of this country and world.

At the same time, you have made friendships on the Hill that will be part of you for the rest of your lives. You came to Tufts as adolescents; you are leaving as young adults ready to confront whatever you may encounter. You can think, you can synthesize information, you can make rational and intelligent judgements. Above all, when you do not know something, you know how to find the knowledge you need.

We take Pride in your intellectual agility as well as your capacity to care about others. I like to think that Tufts contribution to your knowledge, your moral strength, and your willingness to help others will make this a better world to live in.

Now it's Commencement. So let's begin. Your unique contribution will make us all proud. Come back soon.

Onyx

Onyx is Tufts' Black literary magazing. Now in its ninth year, it serves as a medium for creative expression of students at Tufts. Onyx strives to be a mirror that reflects the experiences of people from the African diaspora through poetry, short stories, and artwork.

Primary Source

The journal of conservative thought since 1982, the Primary Source's Role on campus has evolved from presenting conservative views to include addressing campus issues, all with an appropriate amount of humor. Issues explored include campus free speech, liberal academia, the environment and much more.

Queen' Head & Artichoke

The purpose of this organization is to publish a bi-annual literary magazine consisting of the work of Tufts' student, both in the written and visual arts. It aims to give writers and artists a frequent and accessible forum for their work, and to present it to as wide a range of people as possible.

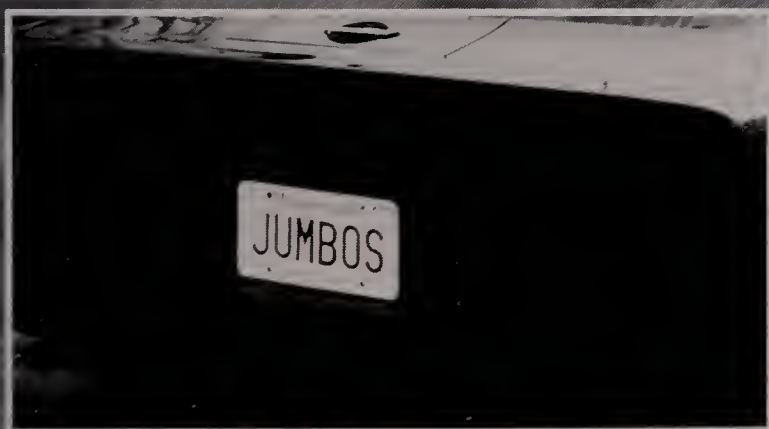

Tufts
Daily

Tufts Daily

"Where you read it first." -- Established in 1980, the Tufts Daily is a non-profit newspaper, published Monday through Friday during the academic year and distributed free to the Tufts community. The Daily is entirely student-run; there are no paid editorial positions. Our departments cover campus and local news, features, arts and entertainment, and sports. We also publish a viewpoints section twice a week, where members of the community can share their opinions. Each Thursday, we include a weekender section with local entertainment highlights and various features.

Our production department designs creative layouts each night, and photo and graphics add eye-catching details to each page. This year, we have developed an active online department that is updated daily with all of our articles and letters to the editor. The Daily homepage also has a searchable archive of past articles. As a student-run organization, we maintain our own business staff which is responsible for the business operations and fiscal management of the paper.

The Daily, in addition to being a source for news and events, is also a means by which students can gain experience in leadership, journalism, business, graphic arts, newspaper layout, desktop publishing, and other media-related skills.

Tufts University Television

We, the members of TUTV, hereby invite you to join us for the great causes of education, entertainment, and enlightenment. We accomplish these tasks through a medium both visual and aural, a form of communication that has and will continue to shape the culture in which we live. Share our dreams--find us online at tutv@emerald.tufts.edu.

WMFO

WMFO 91.5FM is a TCU funded, non-commercial radio station specializing in freeform broadcast. This open-ended style of programming encourages DJs to explore different musical genres and ideas during the course of their weekly airtime, instead of confining them to a predetermined playlist or type of music. The station is run entirely by about 100 volunteers from the Tufts community and student body, who work to keep freeform on the Boston airwaves 24 hours a day. WMFO provides any interested student with the opportunity to run his or her own radio show, and to learn about broadcast radio technology.

Yearbook

The Yearbook incorporates the talents of several students who manage, edit, and write for the annual publication for the senior class and the rest of the Tufts community.

Zamboni

The purpose of The Zamboni is to provide a forum for comic essays, satirical articles, student cartoons, and anything else considered humorous. We remain within the boundaries of good taste while providing the student body with material that no other campus publication will feature.

Religious Groups

Asian Christian Fellowship

The pupose of Asian Christian Fellowship is to offer Tufts students a means to practice Christianity in accordance with their Asian cultural background. In addition, Asian Christian Fellowship provides a specific location and time for all students interested (regardless of ethnicity) to come together to engage in prayer, meditation and praise.

Our vision is to be visible Christians, who help each other grow in Christ, regardless of church affiliation or background. Our theme verse: Matthew 5:14,16.

We strongly emphasize that ACF is not a church, but an extension of church that meets the need of our members who sometimes prefer a smaller, informal style of worship rather than a structured, off-campus service. Currently, most of our members attend a church within the greater Boston area. Although ACF does not offer Bible Study groups, we believe that the Bible is the only source of Truth and do offer small groups, facilitated by upperclassmen, to share in prayer requests, daily struggles and thanksgivings.

One unique aspect of ACF is our references to our Asian cultural background. As 1.5 or second generation Asian Americans, we grew up with the identity of being a minority in this country which draws a different perspective of living as Christians. Our identity of being a minority in at least two ways sets us apart from other campus fellowships. Frequently, we address our Asian culures during our fellowship.

For the Tufts campus, we presented a skit and body worship in Asian Community at Tufts' (ACT) Culture Show during Asian American Month and a bilingual a capella piece in Tufts' Korean Students Association Culture Show. We hosted an annual joint fellowship with other campus ACF's such as Boston College and Wellesley College. For our off-campus trips we presented a skit for Boston-Wide Praise Night at MIT and drove out to South Hamilton for a day of food and fellowship.

Catholic Center

The Tufts Catholic Center gathers for Mass on Sunday nights, provides numerous social activities for members of the Catholic community, and sponsors many community service projects. The Catholic Center is a student-run organization which is always available as a resource to Catholic students. There is also a Choir which sings during every Sunday evening Mass, and they have named themselves the "Voices of God."

Christian Fellowship

Hillel

(Hillel Board with some Staff)

The Tufts Christian Fellowship is a non-demoninational student group whose mission is *to invite people who want more that is truly satisfying to find it
by following Jesus together.*

We are a group of Tufts students and staff who have discovered the joy and satisfaction of following Jesus. We believe that true life is found in Jesus and in his words, and we want to invite others to discover more of that life with us.

Episcopal Student Fellowship

The Episcopal Student Fellowship at Tufts University welcomes any member of the Tufts community wishing to find fellowship in Jesus Christ to join as members. The Episcopal Student Fellowship is a group where students can meet and comfortably discuss biblical and spiritual issues.

Hillel

Hillel, the Jewish organization on campus, is one of the largest campus programming organizations. We dedicate ourselves to social action, participate in religious services and celebrate Shabbat dinner. Additionally, we sponsor well-known speakers, a Purim dance, Chanukah parties, and we organize environmental programs. Hillel has a place for everyone. Tufts Hillel often collaborates with other New England Hillels, offering a chance to meet new people, plan exciting events, and relax with friends.

Islamic Society

The purpose of the Islamic Society is to promote spiritual, physical, and mental well-being by offering religious services and counseling to all its members. We also work to increase overall Islamic awareness on campus, and increase tolerance of Islamic and Muslim views through meetings, lectures and tables. We encourage its members to be open-minded and tolerant of others' views, and to take actions only with the best of intentions.

Orthodox Christian Fellowship

The Orthodox Christian Fellowship was formed and exists to bring Orthodox Christian students together for services and fellowship. We run trips to local churches during religious holidays, and share our heritage throughout the year. Celebrate with us!

Performance Groups

Amalgamates

Years ago, amidst cries of "We want unity," and "Could you please pass the jelly," Tufts' only co-ed a capella group was created. The 'Mates travel to other countries and demand that its members be able to do at least three good impressions of musicians (including, but not limited to Tina Turner, Wayne new-ton, and the Simpsons' great Krusty the Clown) and be able to shoot 70 foot 3-pointers...dizzy...with eyes closed. With their newest album produced this year, it's was great time to get involved.

Arts Commission

The Arts Commission works to support the fine arts at Tufts by having events every Friday or Saturday at 7-9 pm. One of us is usually hanging around at 37 Sawyer Ave., the Arts house.

Ballroom Dancing Club

Learn to kick up your heels and do the foxtrot, the waltz, and other traditional dances. For the tentative dancer, we hold workshops that go over the basics of each dance, while the more advanced dancer has the option of attending ballroom dance competitions. These dances never go out of style, so pull yourself away from your books and join us on the dance floor!

Beelzebubs

The Beelzebubs is comprised of Tufts men who believe that singing should be fun for the audience and performers alike. Founded in 1963, the Beelzebubs have been spreading their motto of "Fun Through Song" throughout the country and around the world. Known as the "Bubs" around campus, they strive for musical excellence as well as quality performance. The Bubs' style of a cappella makes use of vocal percussion, non-traditional syllables, and other innovative mouth noises. Amidst long rehearsals and constant travel, the Bubs always remember that it all revolves around having a good time.

Black Theatre Company

The purpose of the Tufts Black Theatre Company is to promote Black theatre on campus and eventually the surrounding areas. Our aims include diversifying theatre as it is already seen on the Tufts campus and to encourage participation by students of color and other minorities. We will present material written by Black people.

Cheap Sox

Be all that you can be. Travel to exotic lands, meet interesting people and make them laugh. Cheap Sox, an elite para-military improvisational comedy troupe.

Chorale

The Tufts Chorale members are faculty, undergraduates, graduate students, administrators, and a few assorted: music majors and engineers, Beatles lovers and Beethoven buffs, punks and preppies, members of the coffee generation and people who like Grape Nuts. In short, there is no typical Chorale member. This diversity is echoed in our music as well as in our social activities. The Chorale performs music from Stavinsky's "Les Noces" to Beethoven's "Choral Fantasy." Our social functions range from pie-throwing contests, to our annual wine and cheese reception, to an occasional tour to Canada or other new England colleges. The Chorale sings at local nursing homes and hospitals, over Parents' Weekend, and at Winter and Spring concerts.

Crafts Center

The Crafts Center is the "oh-so-groovy place to hang out and make stuff." Activities include Paper marbling, Candlemaking, Papermaking, Fimo, Jewelry Making, and Ceramics. The Crafts Center operates out of the basement of Lewis Hall.

Dance Collective

The Tufts Dance Collective is a student-run, extracurricular dance group open to students with all levels of experience. TDC supports all forms of artistic expression within dance by sponsoring workshops, jam sessions, films, master classes, and most importantly our semester concert. We are members of the dance community establishing a resource that is responsive to a variety of needs.

Essence

The purpose of this organization is to promote the appreciation, performance, and development of Black popular music on Tufts campus. As a group, we are a resource for the Black community. We perform at functions, give shows, and make appearances throughout the year.

Jackson Jills

The Jackson Jills have been Tufts' only all female a cappella group for 32 years and are currently enjoying another semester of song. The Jills tour as much as possible and like to sing for free food. We record an album every other year. Our latest album, Continuum, was released this past September, and just received an award from the Contemporary A Cappella Society of America as runner-up for best collegiate female a cappella album in the nation. Our activities have included renting ourselves to serenade people's sweethearts on Valentine's Day, singing at colleges across the nation, and spreading the Tufts spirit on and off campus.

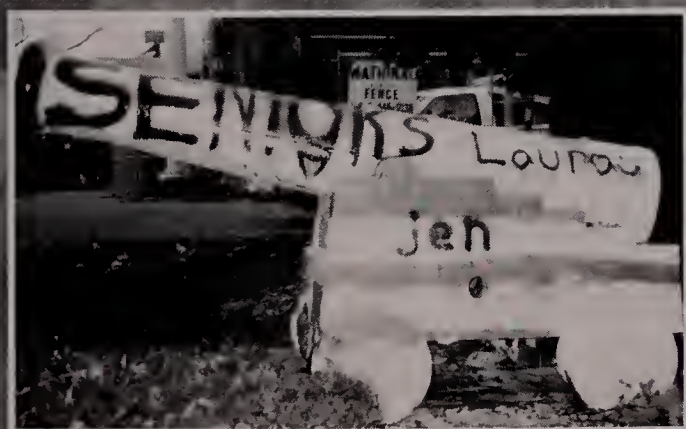

Sarabande Seniors: Adisa Bridgewater and Maria Christina Gouzalez.

JUMBO MARCHING BAND

Jumbo Marching Band

The Jumbo Marching Band, affectionately known as the Pep Band, brought lots of spirit and support to this school year's football games as well as other events on and around campus. Whether it was through playing the Jumbo fight song, "Tuftonis's Day" or the tune which has almost become their own -- "You Can Call Me Al", there was never a dull moment with the Pep Band. And even though not marchers by nature, the students put all their effort into forming the letter "T" during halftime for alumni and parents at the Homecoming and Parents' Weekend games. The Band even carried their spirit to the western part of the state when they played for the Jumbo football team at Amherst college in October.

The band's activities even go beyond music. A Wednesday or Monday evening found members of the band happily enjoying dinner together in Hodgdon -- their cafeteria of choice. At many a football game, band members tried quite hard to get the crowd to partake in the wave. And while West Hall may have its own famous run, the band also has a run out of its own. During the last home game, the seniors run a lap while their fellow band buddies play "Chariots of Fire".

The band was headed up the last half of last year and the first half of this year by officers: Laura Bernheim, Elizabeth Brown, Mary Townsend, Patty Cummings, and Jennifer Madan. The second half of this school year the band was led by Dan Abramovich, Lisa Tortorice, Jonathan Chines, and Lori Harrington.

Pen, Paint & Pretzels

The objective of 3Ps is to encourage, promote, and support theatrical interests at Tufts University, including, but not limited to, original plays by members of the Tufts community.

Sarabande

Sarabande is a troupe of student dancers and choreographers. Together, they perform a variety of different types of dance including ballet, modern, jazz, tap, and street. In the Fall Semester, Sarabande produces the Supershow, in which all of the performance groups on campus come together on one night before the Tufts community. In the Spring, they put on the Spring show, an all-dance performance consisting of Sarabande as well as other guest dance troupes.

Spirit of Color Performing Arts Troupe

Spirit of Color is about unity. It is a student-run organization dedicated to promoting participation in dancing, singing, and acting at Tufts. Our goals are to bring students together regardless of experience and to break down stereotypes regarding such issues as race and ethnicity because all of us have important things to contribute to the performing arts. All of our collaborate efforts are directed toward prepartation for our annual show, which usually takes place in February. The Senior members are: Carolyn Cayode, January Loona, Shivani Sawhney, Pep Chulavatnatol, Ashish Shah, Madhu Kottamasu, Elizabeth Weinstein, Karin Cheung, Sasie Charumilind, Anita Mehta, Kiran Bisla, Ekua Bentsi-Enchill, Sonal Dahiya, Rekha Ramani, Subuhee Hassain, Monica Mirchandani, Jennifer Takesono, Tavia Babb, and Erin Gunselman.

SQ

One of the newest a capella group on the Tufts University Campus, SQ is coed. The favorite color among the group is lime green, and the person in the audience who can make the best chicken impression gets a fresh chicken. This brief-dominated group loves to sing and have fun.

Third Day Gospel Choir

The Third Day Gospel Choir serves as an atmosphere for participants to learn about the Black Gospel experience by studying the origins and growth of Gospel music through its diversified forms of expression. As a choir, we work to achieve our broader goal of ministering the Gospel to the community at large.

Wind Ensemble Seniors (pg. 181)

Torn Ticket II

Torn Ticket II

Torn Ticket II is Tufts' student run musical theatre organization dedicated to producing quality musical theatre; recent productions include: Into the Woods, Godspell, A Chorus Line, Baby, and The Fantasticks, as well as original works. Torn Ticket II presents at least three shows a year, with opportunities in all fields of production and performance.

Traveling Treasure Trunk

Founded years ago and sponsored by LCS and the 3P's, Traveling Treasure Trunk is proud to be Tufts' only repertory performance troupe for children. Since its formation, Trunk has entertained thousands of Boston's children during visits to hospitals, day care centers, elementary schools, and shelters. Trunk holds auditions at the beginning of both semesters and looks for enthusiastic students who love kids and will enjoy being Trunkers!

Wind Ensemble

For many people, MUS 80 is much more than just a class. The Wind Ensemble is a time for making music, and also for making friends. Each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00, we gather in Cohen Auditorium and make wonderful things happen.

Under the enthusiastic direction of John McCann, the Wind Ensemble performs two to four concerts each semester. On stage before each performance, John typically enlightens ensemble members with humorous anecdotes affectionately referred to as "Addie stories" (his charming daughter).

During the last precious days of winter break, the Wind Ensemble joins the Pep Band on the infamous "Band Trip". This year's seniors may remember voyages to places such as Disney World, London, Bermuda, and Montreal. Fond memories are shared by all. In fact, "I met all my friends on my freshman band trip." And remember: More music. Less talk.

We hold workshops in which members can share knowledge with the Tufts community, and also sponsor special events that range from tournaments and live games to challenges with similar groups at other colleges.

Pre-Professional Groups

AIESEC

AIESEC is the French acronym for International Association of Students in Economics and Business. From us, students learn the practical business skills not offered anywhere in the Tufts liberal arts curriculum. Also, AIESEC members get the opportunity to work in a paid internship in any of the 85 participating AIESEC countries.

American Institute of Chemical Engineers

The objectives of A.I.Ch.E. are the advancement of chemical engineering in theory and practice and the maintenance of a higher professional standard among its members.

American Society of Civil Engineers

The Tufts student chapter of the A.S.C.E. allows students to interact with local and national professional communities, by means of guest lectureers and field trips. Students in the A.S.C.E. design and build steel bridges and concrete canoes each year for regional competitions. All are welcome to attend our weekly meetings.

American Society of Mechanical Engineers

The objectives of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (A.S.M.E.) are to encourage the development of a professional consciousness, to provide an opportunity for mechanical engineering students to become acquainted and work together effectively, to promote a spirit of congeniality among them, to provide contact with the engineering profession, and to disseminate knowledge of mechanical engineering to the general population.

Some events A.S.M.E. sponsor each year include trips to local production and process plants, technical speakers, resume workshops, and the Tufts University Soap Box Derby. This year A.S.M.E. is also working with the Oxfam Collective in building a fund raising structure to end world hunger.

Architectural Society

The objective of the Tufts Architectural Society is to establish a forum in which students can express and explore their interest in architecture. The society holds monthly meetings that include; discussions led by guest architects who have designed campus buildings; slide shows presenting the works of contemporary architects; design competitions; and senior portfolio reviews. The society has also offered trips to Newport, R.I. and Boston to tour buildings of architectural significance. All are welcome.

Economics Society

Because Tufts has no business school, the Economics Society plays a vital role in broadening Tufts' Liberal Arts experience for those students interested in developing business skills. Members of the Economics Society share experiences about classes, economic related activities, internships, and the job search process, in addition to strengthening the Economics major and department by offering feedback to the department on class topics. The Economics Society also brings in independent speakers in business and economic-related topics.

History Society

The History Society was established as a forum for history aficionados. As a group we work to bring a wide range of speakers to campus, and we provide a network for both history majors and other students interested in historical issues. Whether studying the past or the present, the History Society prepares you for the future!

Human Factors and Ergonomics Society

In order to maximize human performance, a knowledge of human factors and ergonomics is required. In collaboration with the undergraduate degree program in human factors engineering, the society promotes and advances understanding of human factors involved in the design, manufacture, and use of different machines, systems and devices. We achieve these goals through the interchange of knowledge and methodology amongst the behavioral, biological, and physical sciences. In the past, we have published an engineering psychology newsletter, and participated in events sponsored by the nation human factors organization.

TSR is responsible for six divisions dedicated to serving the student body; Aerobics on the Hill, Celebrations, Laundry Service, Direct Sales, The Rez, and Publications.

Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers

The purpose of IEEE is to introduce the electrical engineering student to the professional world. We discuss technological advancements in our society, and to promote a sense of engineering ethics and morals through speakers, information sessions, plant tours, and functions.

National Society of Black Engineers

The Tufts chapter of NSBE emulates the national organization in its quest to provide a supportive environment for black students, for the purpose of establishing a basis for future success as scientists and engineers. We strive to increase the number of minority students studying engineering, while promoting public awareness of the opportunities for blacks in the engineering profession. Finally, we serve as a representative body at Tufts University on issues and developments that affect the careers of black engineers.

Philosophy Colloquium

The purpose of the student Philosophy Colloquium is to create a forum in which interested students can present and discuss student papers, thoughts, and ideas pertinent to the study of philosophy. # Political and Community Groups

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is a world-wide, non-political organization which works to end government violations of human rights. This includes working to free prisoners of conscience and ensure a fair trial for political prisoners, and working to end the death penalty, torture, and extra-judicial executions. Tufts' Amnesty chapter meets weekly to write letters on behalf of prisoners of conscience, in addition to hosting speakers and holding write-a-thons and concerts, such as the "Rights (Not) on the Roof" event each Spring. We also work with other local Amnesty groups to raise awareness about human rights violations.

Burma Action Group

The Burma Action Group works to educate the campus about the U.S. companies which are contributing to the violation of human rights in Burma. This abomination occurs indirectly through American support of the Burmese government, and directly through utilization of slave and child labor forces. By mobilizing Tufts students, the Burma Action Group participates in solutions to these problems. Our activities include boycotting the products of guilty companies such as Pepsi, and encouraging local stores to do the same, as well as appealing to executives at the companies themselves.

Council on International Affairs

TCIA is an organization that brings current events and world issues to the awareness of students on campus. We will be participating in Model United Nations Conferences at Dartmouth, Harvard, and Yale. We will also be inviting speakers to discuss issues pertaining to international relations and perhaps hold a mock conference of our own-this past year, a mock Middle East Peace conference was held.

Democrats

Forget that Tufts' mascot is an elephant, for the Tufts Democrats serve as the influential voice of the Democratic party at Tufts. We educate the community about relevant political and social issues, provide a forum for discussion of issues of concern, and encourage and support the election of democratic candidates to office.

Ears for Peers

The purpose of our organization is to help people cope with their problems, understand and express their emotions, and find possible solutions to concerns. Our telephone hotline, 627-3888, provides an anonymous and confidential setting where members of the Tufts community can feel comfortable talking to someone.

Environmental Consciousness Outreach

ECO is the undergraduate group for environmental organizing and activism. ECO is run with consensus based decision making. All are welcome to join and participate. Help us add to the growing reputation of the Speech and Debate Society while honoring your own communication skills.

Students Against Drunk Driving/BACCHUS

SADD/BACCHUS enables concerned, responsible students to respond in a pro-active way to a major killer of their age group--drunk driving. The program combines abuse prevention with practical solutions to DWI situations. Recognizing that drinking has traditionally been a part of college social life, SADD/BACCHUS promotes respect for all laws relating to the use of alcoholic beverages, and hopes to raise awareness of the drinking and driving problem so that students will be better able to deal with or avoid potential drinking and driving incidents involving themselves and others. The SADD College Program has three major components: campus activities, community service, and the SADD College "Contract for Life."

Tufts Emergency Medical Service

TEMS is dedicated to providing emergency medical care to the Tufts community and teaching emergency medicine. TEMS personnel organize an EMT training course, provide on-call coverage to the University in case of medical emergency, stand-by at various athletic events, and sponsor seminars on primary emergency medical care.

Tufts Lesbian, Gay, & Bisexual Community

TLGBC provides emotional support to all students at various stages of coming to terms with their sexuality, and coordinates and participates in political and educational activities. Every TLGBC member chooses his or her own level of involvement, and one does not need to be "out of the closet" to participate. Meetings are strictly confidential.

Tufts Recycles

Tufts Recycles is composed of a group of undergraduate students and a senior staff advisor. It was formally created in 1994, and since then has reworked on creating a more sustainable solid waste management system for the university. Its endeavor is to promote recycling and waste management awareness and participation, by maintaining an active role in student life, as well as administration and faculty life. Tufts Recycles prides itself in ensuring progress in environmental matters such as environmental consciousness, solid waste, energy, water management, and reduction of levels of consumption. Our aim is to continue to be at the forefront of new innovations in recycling policies and educational programs, and to work in a joint venture with others in maintaining this philosophy.

Committee on Student Life

The Committee on Student life is a faculty-student committee comprised of five student members and six faculty representatives. Student representatives are elected; faculty members are appointed. Several ex-officio members of the administration participate in the meetings. The CSL is the judiciary board for students accused of academic dishonesty, an appeal board for actions taken by the Dean of Students' Office, a hearing board for student organizations, and a grievance committee for students against whom discrimination allegedly occurred. Most importantly, the CSL strives to improve the quality of life at Tufts. All members of the Tufts community are urged to attend meetings and voice their concerns.

Elections Board

The Elections Board is responsible for coordinating, overseeing and upholding the rules for campus elections and referendum votes. members of the board are appointed by the TCU Judiciary, TCU Senate, and the student members of the Committee on Student Life.

Faculty-Student Committees

Nearly seventy-five student positions are available on over twenty five faculty-student committees which voice concerns on nearly every aspect of the Tufts curricular and co-curricular experience--from educational policy and curriculum requirements to dining services. Early in the fall, the TCU Senate advertises which positions are available and appoints students to full-year terms through an application and interview process.

Tufts Community Union Senate

The Tufts Community Union Judiciary is the body that speaks for the undergraduate population as a whole. Our aim is to provide an accurate representation of the students' will, interest, and needs. The Senate consists of seven voting members from each class as well as an executive board, Trustee Representatives, and Culture Representatives. The TCU Senate deals with all aspects of student life, and the different branches of the Senate are committed to enhancing student life at Tufts. To best serve the needs of the TCU, we encourage feedback on all projects and issues.

The committees of the IGC are responsible for the educational programming for new members to the Greek System. The Inter-Fraternity Council (IFC) and Pan Hellenic Council serve as the governing bodies for fraternities and sororities, respectively. They coordinate the rush activities and hold inter-fraternity and inter-sorority social and philanthropic events. The IGC office is located in the Campus Center.

Zeta Psi

The Kappa Chapter of Zeta Psi is the oldest fraternity on the campus of Tufts University. Located at 80 Professors Row, it is in the center of campus, and is perhaps the nucleus to social life here at Tufts. Yet this magnificent brotherhood is certainly more than just a social hot spot. The house boasts members of various sports teams, including football, soccer, lacrosse, rugby, swimming, volleyball, and basketball. Zeta Psi is also active in philanthropies. This year the house is as strong as ever with over fifty brothers. Unfortunately the members of Zeta Psi will have to bid farewell to the following seniors: Jeff Arena, Mick Camera, Jake Farquason, Chris Farmer, Mike Gambsy, John Garofalo, Mark Jacobson, Larry Kalinsky, Dan Kleinman, Aaron Levine, Brian Mozinkski, Jim Sheehy, Ben Thompson, Brian Quist, and Alex Zavorski. Although these brothers will no longer be active here at Tufts, they will remain Zetas forever and will be remembered for their numerous contributions to the house.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Along with AOPi sisters everywhere, the women of Delta Chapter celebrated our fraternity's one hundredth anniversary on January 2, 1997. What an exciting year to be an AOPi!! As we turn a century old, Delta Chapter has been busy sponsoring philanthropic events for the community as well as the Tufts Campus. In addition, we continue to strengthen our sisterhood through new members social and sisterhood events.

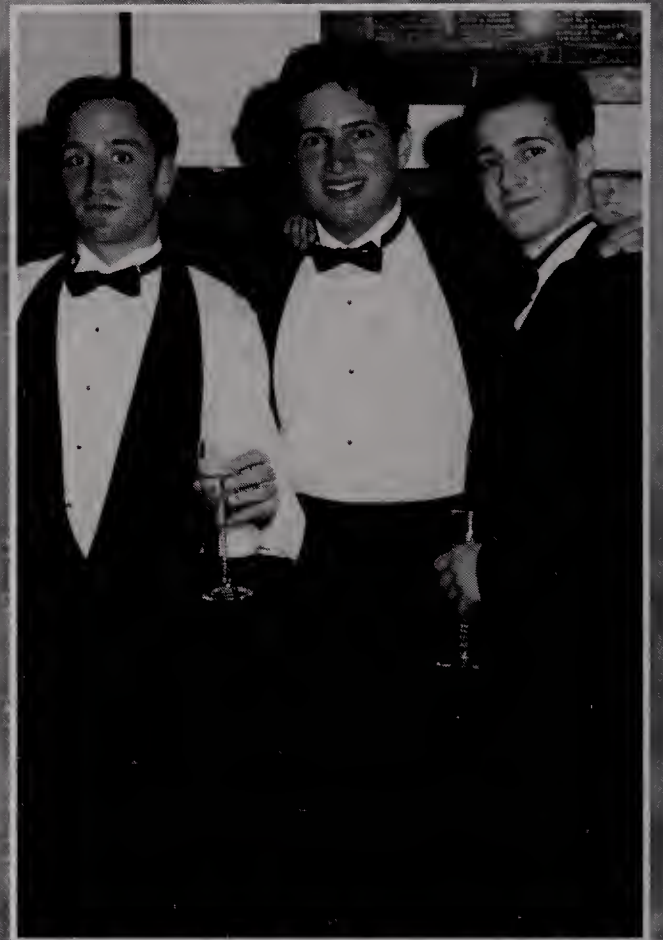

At the same time we now have to say goodbye to our seniors!! Thank you for everything you have done as both our friends and our sisters!! As a class you have been some of the strongest members this house has ever seen. We wish you the best of luck in everything you do.

Love Always,
Your Sisters in AOPi

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Council is comprised of eight historically African-American, national and/or international sororities and fraternities. At Tufts, each Black Greek Letter Organization is a member of a city-wide chapter whose membership includes students from other Boston area school. The sororities and fraternities are committed to social awareness and community service. Each organization strives to implement public service programming, in accordance with its own specific national guidelines.

The team was lead by Mike Northrop in taking 4 out of the top 5 finishes in the 10 team field. The team continued its winning ways by defeating Bates and MIT (for the first time) in a tri-meet. A fourth place finish at the highly competitive Cortland Invitational vaulted the previously 15th ranked Jumbos into the 11th with a defeat of 9th ranked Haverford. The Jumbos walked away with a victory at the Babson Invitational. At the Division I New England meet the team finished 9th with 250 points. In a tune-up for the New England Regional Championship, the Jumbos traveled to a second place finish, losing only to number 1 Williams. The Jumbos continued their fantastic season by defeating RIT for their first ever ECAC championship. Five Tufts men earned All-ECAC: Mike Northrop, Dan Dawson, Bryan Graham, Scott Masiella, and Rich Hemingway. The Tufts men qualified for the first time ever as a team for the NCAA Championship, with a second place finish at the Hew England Regional. Record: 10-3-2

In August, the woman's soccer team spent a week in Montreal training, playing Canadian teams, and seeing the sites. After a competitive tryout period, four freshman and two previously JV players were added to the varsity squad and proved to be an indispensable component of the team. After two pre-season scrimmages, we began playing the teams on our season roster. We won our first four or five games and remained un-scored upon. Our goalie, Jen Starrett received a Goalie of the Week award during that interval of time.

We ended the regular season with a record of 7-5-2, and were ranked first as we entered the ECAC post-season tournament. We played our first ECAC game at Tufts against Smith and beat them in the overtime period by scoring two goals and making the score 3-1. We then advanced to the semi-final game which was also at Tufts. Matched up against Plymouth we were unsure of what to expect. With all the emotion and excitement of being in the tournament, we came out and beat them 3-0, which moved us into the finals the next day against Wellesley. The final match of the season proved to be the longest game of the season. After a grueling regulation period, the game went into the first thirty minute overtime. Tufts scored a goal to gain a 1-0 lead over Wellesley, but the score was soon evened up when Wellesley put one in the net later in that overtime period. The next thirty minute sudden death overtime saw both teams continue to struggle to put the ball in the net, but as neither team was able to do so, the game went to penalty kicks. After both teams missed two of their penalty kicks in the first five, the contest moved to a one on one match up of the next two kickers. The Wellesley player missed her shot and Christ finally ended the game and the season with her shot that got past the Wellesley goalie.

The women's soccer team is graduating five seniors this year who Coach Bill Gehling describes as "great players and great people". After not winning a post season tournament since 1989, the Tufts women's soccer team was due for a championship.

TAE KWON DO

Tufts TKD was founded in 1991 by a small group of students interested in bringing quality martial arts instruction to Tufts, utilizing instructors in the Tufts student community. From its original membership of three students, Tufts TKD has in the years since its inception realized that vision, and has expanded its classes and its membership, becoming the most visible and exciting martial arts organization at Tufts. The club consists of 20-30 students and meets four times each week. Instruction focuses on developing flexibility, strength, and the essentials of Tae Kwon Do.

FENCING

Both men's and women's fencing teams had an amazing 1995-1996 season. In the New England Championships, the men placed fifth and the women second. The Tufts team was the top Club finisher for the second year running.

The men's team lost a large portion of their starting line-up this year. They have a lot of potential with the new and returning members, and will spend the 1996-1997 season rebuilding. Sophomore Roni Gold is one star that has returned to the team, and in the first big individual competition of the season, he placed second. There were over 200 fencers at the event.

The women's team looks to dominate New England this year. In the same competition that Roni Gold excelled in, senior Jana Butland came in second place in epee, and juniors Lisa Allen and Wendy Lai came in fourth in women's foil and epee, respectively. In the first team event of the year, Tufts women's team went undefeated, and heads into the rest of the season in first place in New England.

CHEERLEADING

EQUESTRIAN TEAM

The Equestrian Team has enjoyed a lot of success in recent years. In 1995 and 1996 the team competed at the National Championships in Colorado and California, respectively. In Colorado, Tufts became second in the nation. Each member trains at Apple Knoll Farm, in Millis, M.A. The Equestrians participate in competitions during the Fall and Spring seasons, against schools such as B.U. , Middlebury, Dartmouth, and Harvard.

Seth E. Wadley

The walk you take on May 18, 1997 during pomp and circumstances will be the culmination of our dream. For many it will be their academic capstone; but for you it will only be your right of passage, for your capstone is yet to come.

One hopes for a son to be an extension of their hopes and aspirations, and our son, Seth E. Wadley, has been that. Not only are you the infinite love of our life, you are the vortex of our being.

The right of passage that you have undertaken carries with it the baggage of adulthood. Yet through observing your growth and actions over the years, we are sure you will prevail.

When they call your name, your mother and I will rise with you, and when you walk, you will feel our presence, because we have always walked together.

From The Dean of Students...

We hope you are reluctant to leave Tufts, and we know that we will miss you, but we take comfort from the fact that you, as graduates, are connected to Tufts not only by what you take away but also by what you leave behind. The Tufts you entered in 1993 is the product of successive generations of students, faculty, and administrators, beginning with the first entering class in 1854. Tufts has been changed by your presence, and the Tufts that the Class of 2001 enters this fall is one you have helped to shape.

Look around you at Commencement to see how many people in your class you count as friends, how many you speak to--smile at--even if you don't know their name, and how many you recognize and accept as a part of your community. All of you came to Tufts as strangers, from different backgrounds, different geographic areas, different ethnic and racial groups.

Never, after graduation, will you think of another Tufts graduate as a stranger. Whether you meet traveling abroad, or at a dinner party given by a mutual acquaintance, or across a desk when one of you is a job candidate and the other is an employer, you will find some kinship, some shared history.

You have struggled with one another--sometimes offended, misunderstood, ignored, or avoided one another. But over the past four years, you have shared a common environment, cooperated in its use, made room for each other, and--in many instances--have come to call each other "friend". Out of all of your differences you have forged a common identity--Tufts University graduate, Class of 1997.

Where will you find another community like this? Perhaps nowhere--that's why alums come back to reunions. But, remember: you didn't just find this community either. You helped make it.

Thanks to Tom Keeley and to my family for everything. I love you Mom, Dad, and Dan.

I would also like to offer a special congratulations to this year's mens basketball team for doing an outstanding job. I'm sorry that you couldn't be included in the sports section. Congratulations to the seniors on the team - Jon Carroll, Dave Sullivan, and Dan Ragsdale!!!

Words from the Editor-in-Chief

Many people assisted in the production of this book. My sincere thanks goes out to William Stackman, Jodie Nealley, Anadri Chisolm, David Backman, Michaela Murphy, and Dot McAveeny from the Office of Student Activities; Kate Ryan and Karen Reilly from the Office of the President and President John DiBiaggio himself; everyone at University Printing Services; and Lee Brenner and Josh Goldenberg from the Senate Treasury.

I would especially like to thank Tom Keeley of Jostens Printing and Publishing and Caren Orlick Corin of DaVor Photography, Inc. for all of their help. I don't know how we would have done it without the two of you. Thanks also to everyone from DaVor in Pennsylvania and to my editors, Lisa Tortorice and Marshea Fenderson (IT'S DONE!!!).

I wish the best of all things to each member of the Class of 1997. Being a member of the Class of 1999, I will be sorry to see many of you go. To all of my CB friends: Ari Ackerman, Jana Butland, Jennifer Calberg (bye Jen), Amy Cheever (the nicest person I know), Beth Conlin, Sean Denham, Will Engle (the coolest RA), Dina Finz, Rebecca Forshiet (no go...visit me in Melbourne), Davin Hatfield-Westgate, Elena Laskin (the big sister I never had; I still can't remember what you said to me), Michelle Mitchell ("touched" by the Rev. Jesse Jackson himself), Henry Morgan (take care Henry), Jacqueline Reid (tamer of the beast), Sam Singal, Derek Steinbrenner, Bill Sullivan (wasn't that a cool party Bill?), Hernando Torres-Rocca, Seth Wadley, Amy C. Williams (your career as a runway model awaits), and Greg Youman, I wish you all the best of luck. Just think, you can always come back as a Coord. Good luck to all of my SAO friends: Sara Byala, Gina Beck, Mark "Juj" Jesensky, Allison Koplick, Shamik Mitchell, Nina Nguyen, Joe O'Garr, and Becca Tenney. And finally, good luck to my AOH friends: Cori Pallidino and Marci Shyavitz.

This book that you are now reading is the culmination of one year's worth of work by a very dedicated staff. We hope that you all enjoy this and open it up whenever you miss the Hill.

Congratulations again to everyone,

Ryan Earley
Editor-in-Chief

CONGRATULATIONS GRADUATES!!!

I would like to take this time to show some love to all the seniors that I have come to know at Tufts. It has been a great experience knowing you in our short two years together.

I want to wish you the very best once you graduate, and I know that you will do well in what ever you do.

Luv, Remedy

Nineteen

Most importantly I would like to thank and acknowledge Ryan Early and Lisa Tortorice for making my experience not only at yearbook but at Tufts a most interesting and unforgettable one. I don't think I will miss the long days and night, but I will certainly miss you guys. Everything has it's up's and down, but it has been great working with you. Lastly, I would like to say, I do not know how we did it, but we pulled it off again. The biggest congratulations goes out to you on this years Yearbook.
